

A decorative border of various pumpkin faces surrounds the central text. The pumpkins have different expressions, some smiling, some with wide eyes, and some with neutral or slightly menacing looks. The colors range from orange to black and white.

SPECIAL PROGRAMMING OCTOBER 19, 2024

African American Museum

📍 701 Arch Street

Arch Street Meeting House

Burial ground scavenger hunt

📍 320 Arch Street

Art Star

Oktoberfest Craft Market - Vendors will be both inside the Visitor Center and outside in Liberty Garden.

📍 599 Market Street

Betsy Ross House

visitors will meet Margaret Woodby, demonstrating biscuit (cookie) making; Julia Stockton Rush, who talks about colonial medicine; and Sarah Bass Allen will be teaching quill pen writing.

📍 239 Arch Street

Carpenters' Hall Courtyard

Colonial photo opportunity

📍 320 Chestnut Street

Elfreth's Alley Museum

Edgar Allan Poe's Philadelphia stories from 2 - 4 p.m.

📍 124 Elfreth's Alley

Franklin Court

Mask making

📍 Market Street between 3rd & 4th.

SPECIAL PROGRAMMING OCTOBER 19, 2024

Franklin Square

Bring your child to pick a pumpkin out of Franklin Square's Pumpkin Patch, 11 am- 1 pm! We'll provide supplies to decorate it so that they can take it home and be ready for Halloween.

📍200 N. 6th Street

Independence Seaport Museum

Join us in the Seaport Boat Shop from 11 AM - 1 PM and carve your own Jack-o-Lantern decoration for the season! All ages are welcomed. Included with admission.

📍211 Christopher Columbus Blvd.

Kick Axe Throwing

Spooky axe throwing and pumpkin splitting.

📍232 Market Street

Ministry of Awe

Come for a treat and get tricked. You will enter MoA's lair in the basement of an old sugar factory, and this means the candy has been around a long time...prepare for a little haunt, all ages welcome.

📍225 Church Street

Signers Garden

18th century games

📍5th & Chestnut Street

Science History Institute

Food science and school lunch themed programming as well as historic candy recipes.

📍315 Chestnut Street